Please try to describe your property carefully. Is it a single item, part of a set or from a collection?

In order to help you, our experts require certain basic information relating to the object which include MEDIUM, DIMENSIONS, MARKINGS, SIGNATURES, CONDITION, and PROVENANCE.

What is the medium?

For instance, is your picture watercolor, oil or pastel; your sculptural group bronze, ormolu or marble?

What are the dimensions?

Measure the objects in inches or centimeters, height before width excluding their frames.

Are there any markings or signatures?

If so, please describe, sketch or send photographs of any marks. For example: impressed, painted or printed marks or labels, cast or engraved signatures on bronzes; or signatures or monograms on drawings, watercolors, oil paintings and enamels.

What condition is the object in?

Please detail accurately any damage or wear. Although repairs are often difficult to detect, try to describe any flaw or other evidence of restoration. For example: rips, holes or stains in pictures.

What is the provenance?

Please describe the source of your object, especially with regard to its original ownership and/or recent history. Did you, for instance, buy it from an antique dealer or inherit it from your family?

Has the subject of your inquiry ever been exhibited or appeared in any publications?

Please also include any other comments or information that you believe might help our experts to help you. Remember, the higher the quality of the photographs you provide, and the more detailed the descriptions of your property, the more accurate our auction estimates will be. Auction estimates are, of course, subject to change based upon firsthand inspection of your property.
