With a natural talent for appreciating the beauty of nature and by fine tuning it through the experiences made as a successful painter and photographer, Luk luts "penetrates" the diverse stonetypes.

The inventory stretches from Mergel-sandstone, trough Diestianian iron-sandstone, French stones, Belgian stones and Irish bluestone, the beautiful but delicate Noir de Mazy-stone, to the unique Italian marble: Bianco Statuario and the colourful Zimbabwean Opaal and Springstone.

Clarifying the fossilised message or "imprint" of the stone mass or freeing women statues from there age-old bolsters is his obsession.

Luk Luts is the man who next to spreading wisdom as a teacher also got Stone-wise. Not only because in no time he gained a deeper feeling and understanding of Stone, but also because he uses that wisdom to show us through his personal style what he sees in the stone. Once you get this understanding of his work, you'll recognize them anywhere
